Echo... What is an echo? Only the repeating of a sound, but is that all? It relays a meaning, a thought, a feeling. Often we overlook what is vital in our search for what is important. We can see our school echo in our minds. With the echoes race reflections of victory, defeat, learning, struggling together to reach our goals.

Sports

Excitement, victory, defeat — all are reflections of sports. The memories of those moments of winning and losing shall recur in the lives of each student. We have learned the true meaning of pride and our athletes have shown that winning is not always reflected by the scoreboard.

1977-78 Football Team Puts Forth Effort

Although the Roughneck varsity displayed an amazing drive and determination throughout the 1977 season, victory eluded them. "Roughneck" tradition is always a challenge to live up to and though statistics may not show it, our boys certainly lived up to this reputation as far as pride, dedication and spirit are concerned.

Eighth Grade Gains Football Experience

The 8th grade Roughnecks in combining a record of 1-7-1 had a more impressive year than stats show. This being their first year to play a full schedule, most of their time was spent learning basic fundamentals such as blocking and tackling. The Jr. Necks had good spirit all year never letting up. They had many close games in which a few mistakes sent them tumbling. But their hard work and dedication paid off as they won their last game of the season. Coach Bill Rogers said he was, "proud of the way they came back and improved each week, finally putting it all together and obtaining their goal of winning."

(1) Players take a rest during a time out. (2) Bervick Anderson (8) struggles through the opposing team's defensive line. (3) Roughnecks capture the ball before an official timeout. (4) The 1977-78 8th grade Roughneck Football Team.

7th Grade Takes to Gridiron for First Time

The seventh Grade Football boys put on pads and played as White Oak Roughnecks for the first time this year. They worked mostly on fundamentals and the act of getting along as a team. The Jr. Necks were successful in one of their two outings. Both games were against Spring Hill. The Panthers won the first game 14-6, but the Jr. Necks came back in the second to blow out the Panthers 22-6. In beating the Panthers and coming back they proved to be true Roughnecks.

Elementary

These buildings appear so big to a child first starting in elementary school. Lunch, recess, nap time, chocolate milk, and music are all a part of starting out. It seems like an eternity before school days will be over but the end comes too soon. The fundamentals gained in elementary are just the first stepping stone in our educational endeavors.

Faculty and Administration

The faculty and administration have helped us overcome not only the school work problems of learning but have taught us values and shared experiences which will help us become better adults. The words they have instilled in our minds will echo in the years that follow.

Superintendent, School Board Meet WO's Growing Needs

A big part of the Superintendent's and School Board's job is to accomodate a growing school. This is a responsibility which is pressing at White Oak. C. M. "Micky" Koonce, Superintendent, said, "I think the outlook is for continued, accerlarated growth."

It is estimated that WO schools should grow steadily 5 to 6 % per year, but this year alone the elementary school enrollment has increased 17 to 18%.

The board and Superintendent have worked hard this year to meet the growing demand for space and faculty. There have been four new teachers added in the elementary. In this way WO has kept up with the extreme growth of students. Then the question of space poses another problem.

The board and Dr. Koonce face this responsibility with dedication and determination to sustain WO standards of excellence.

The Board members are Leonard White — President, Milton Moss — Vice President, Harry Goss — Secretary, Robert Brown, Lyn Vaughn, Melvin Pitts, and Mrs. Marie Pendleton.

Middle School Initiates Motivating System

Motivation is the key to the initiation of the Improvement Roll by Middle School Principal, Jimmy Johns. Its purpose is to give students a chance to be on an Achievement Roll even if they cannot make the Honor Roll.

Middle School students are required to have five academic subjects. To qualify for the Improvement Roll a student must bring up at least three of these subjects five points without any grade dropping more than five points.

Mr. Johns said, "It is working real well for us." He also added that the qualifications are rigid but the students want to reach this goal. He concluded, "I think it provides an incentive for the students to work toward."

Job Not All Paper Work

Under the leadership of Principal Mike Crossland, the elementary school experiences many moods and phases. Everything from coordinating elementary activities to translating a first grader's writing is all a part of a day's work for Mr. Crossland.

The first year reading lab has also offered changes to the elementary's schedule. Mr. Crossland said, "The improvement is evident. It is also helping the attitude of the students." The new program is an aid for the children to progress on a more individual basis. The reading program is headed by Mrs. Shirley Atkins. Crossland is faced with many different situations in a job that is not all paper work. If a child walks into his office and shows him his work and tells Mr. Crossland, "I did my work in Chinese." Mr. Crossland chuckles and pats the child on the back with a caring and knowing

High School Work Involves U.I.L.

U.I.L. activities help in preparing pupils for citizenship. It furnishes inspiration to talented pupils. "With such a wide program a large percentage of pupils find something offered which they can do well and learn to do well, and hence enjoy doing under conditions of friendly rivalry," said Mr. Robert Proctor, High School Principal.

Mr. Proctor devotes much of his time to coordinating UIL activities in the high school. Winning the 13th straight literary championship in UIL, the promotion of such involvement is evident. Mr. Proctor travels many miles and spends hours at a time backing UIL contestants from White Oak.

Disciplining Depends Mainly on Preparation

Being the disciplining force at White Oak High, Mr. Gail Bush, Assistnat Principal, can tell how well students and faculty communicate. Mr. Bush stressed the importance of a prepared instructor in relationship with discipline. "A teacher that is prepared is a humanist, and flexible, therefore the discipline problem is greatly reduced." Mr. Bush added, "The person who goes into the classroom has got to be universal."

Mr. Bush explained the vitalness of the teacher awareness of students. "But more than anything," Mr. Bush concluded that "teachers have got to care for the students."

On a whole Mr. Bush told, "I think we are pretty strong." He uses UIL as an example. After a 13th Literary win, Mr. Bush told, "It shows we're doing a good job."
